

10th Belgian Environmental Economics Day - BEED 2017

Preliminary program

Friday 24 February 2017

KU Leuven, CEDON, Stormstraat/Rue d'assault 2, 1000 Brussel, Room 6303 (6th floor)

Participation is free but registration mandatory upon sandra.rousseau@kuleuven.be

9h30 : Registration and Coffee

9h55 : Welcome

By Johan Eyckmans, Campus-Dean Faculty Economics and Business, KU Leuven

10h00 : Session 1

- Adaptive intertemporal decision making under the threat of intense earthquakes ❖ Yu Sun
- The impact of Voluntary Partnership Negotiations on Cameroon timber exports towards the EU ❖ Jan Brusselsaers
- Cost-benefit analysis for invasive species control: the case of greater Canada goose Branta canadensis in Flanders (northern Belgium) ❖ Nikolaas Reyns
- A simple closed form formula for an optimal carbon price and emission path ❖ Frank Venmans

12h00 : Lunch and poster session

13h00 : Session 2

- Ecosystem services of air quality in Flanders – a citizen's perspective ❖ Liesbet Vranken
- A fully integrated small open circular economy model ❖ Juan Garcia
- Building tactical waste collection schemes: an assessment of column generation and MIP-based heuristics ❖ Jens Van Engeland
- Scrap collection for recycling: how good is good? ❖ Thuc Huan Ha

15h00 : Coffee break

15h30 : Keynote speaker – Christian Egenhofer (Centre for European Policy Studies - CEPS)

- Presentation on “EU climate and energy policy in the post-Brexit and Trump era”
- Discussion

17h00 : End

