

Relevance of the SET-plan for Denmark

Eric Björklund
141210

Danish focus

- Growth and climate goes hand-in-hand
- Government strategies that provide a strong foundation
- Clear government commitment
- Open to international cooperation in RD&D

A quicker way to the market

Why are we interested in the SET-plan?

- Gearing of funds
- International exposure
- Reducing risk
- Global competition

How do we see our role in this?

- Pushing the windfarms further out to sea
- Facilitator between risk mitigation and policy objectives

What are we doing then?

- National programmes open to SET-plan projects
- Promotion of the activities to stakeholders
- Coordination with other member states

Why aren't we getting anywhere?

- Programme coordination
- State-aid rules
- Limited funds
- Practical, rather than “political” barriers

What will it take?

- Better communication
- Trust
- Sales
- Plunging

Questions?

