

High-level workshop on

“Digitalisation in Energy: challenges and opportunities for consumers and security of the system”

CEPS, 20 June 2019

17:30h-19:00h

Agenda

(All speakers are confirmed unless otherwise indicated)

Digital technologies and big data are creating new opportunities for market players from energy and other sectors embracing innovation. This raises the question on how the EU regulatory framework will need to be adapted in order to take into account specific energy features such as security of supply, grid and systems stability and the need to reduce vulnerability of critical infrastructure.

A high-level CEPS Energy Climate House workshop with the support of Acquirente Unico S.p.A will take stock of on-going initiatives and identify news ways forward.

17:30 Welcome and Introduction by Christian Egenhofer, Director CEPS Energy Climate House

17:40 The EU Framework for Digital Energy

Dominique Ristori, Director-General DG Energy, European Commission

17:50 Comments:
